STORY OF AGGY'S COMPLETE UNDOING

HOW FUNSTON ENSNARED HIM

NEVER WOULD HAVE BEEN TAKEN EXCEPT BY STRATEGY.

The Americans Led to His Headquarters as Prisoners in Charge of Natives—A Fight Took Place When the Rebel Leader Was Seized, but None of the American Party Was Injured, and Probably Only One Filipino Killed—Many Hardships Endured by Funston and His Men

Manila, March 28.—General Fred Funston, who, March 23, captured Emilio Aguinaldo, when interviewed today by the representative of the Associated Press, made the following statement concerning the capture of the Filipino leader:

The confidential agent of Aguinaldo arrived February 28, at Pantabanga, in the province of Nueva Ecija, northern Luzon, with letters, dated January 11, 12, and 14. These letters were fromE milio Aguinaldo and directed Baldermero Aguinaldo to take command of the provinces of central Luzon, supplanting General Alepandrino. Emilio Aguinaldo also ordered that 400 men be sent him as soon as possible,saying that the bearers of letters would guide these men to where Aguinaldo was. General Funston secured the correspondence of Aguinaldo and laid his plans accordingly. Some months previously he had captured the camp of the insurgent, General Lucuna, incidentally obtaining Lacuna's seal, official papers and a quantity of signed correspondence From this material two letters were constructed, ostensibly from Lacuna to Aguinaldo. One of these contained information as to the progress of the war. The other asserted that, pursuant to orders received from Baldermero Aguinaldo, Lacuna was sending his best company to President Emilo Aguinaldo.

His plan completed and approved, General Funston came to Manila and organized his exepedition, selecting 78 Macabebes, all of whom spoke Tagalog fluently. Twenty wore insurgent uniforms and the others the clothing of Filipino laborers. This Macabebe company, armed with 50 Mausers, 18 Remingtons and 10 Krag-Jorgensens, was commanded by Captain Russell T. Hazzard, of the Eleventh United States Volunteer Cavalary. With him was his brother, Lieutenant Oliver P. M. Hazzard. Capt. H. W. Newton,Thirty-fourth Infantry, was taken because of his familiarity with Casiguran Bay and Lieutenant Buton Mitchell, Fortieth Infantry, went as General Funston's aide. These were the only two Americans accompanying the expedition. With the Macabebes were four ex-insurgent officers, one Spaniard and the other three Tagalogs.

General Funston and the American officers wore plain blue shirts and khaiki trousers. They carried each a half blanket but no insignia of rank. The Macabebes were carefully instructed to obey the orders of the four ex-insurgent officers.

On the night of March 8th the party embarked on the United States gunboat Vicksburg. It was originally intended to take cascoes from the island of Polillo and to drift to the mainland, but a storm arose and three of the cascoes were lost. This plan was abandoned.

At 2 a. m., March 14th, the Vicksburg put her lights out and ran inshore 25 miles south of Casiguran, province of Principe. The party landed and marched to Casurgan. The Americans had never garrisoned this place; and the inhabitants are strong insurgent sympathizers. Having arrived there the ex-insurgent officers, ostensively commanded the party, announced that they were on their way to join Aguinaldo between Pautobagan and Baler, that they had surprised an American surveying party and that they had killed a number, capturing five. They exhibited General Funston and the other Americans as their prisoners.

The insurgent president of Casiguram believed the story. Two of the Lacuna letters, previously captured, were forwarded to Aguinaldo at Palanan, province of Isabela. General Funston and the others were kept imprisoned for three days, giving orders at night. On the morning of March 17, taking a small quantity of a cracked corn, the party started on a 90-mile march to Palanan. The country is rough and uninhabited and provisions could not be secured. The party ate small shell fish, but were almost starved. Wading swift rivers, climbing precipitous mountains and penetrating dense jungles they marched seven days and nights and on March 22 had reached a point eight miles from Palanan. They were now so weak that it was necessary to send to Aguinaldo's camp for food. Aguinaldo dispatched replies and directed that the American prisoners be kindly treated, but not be allowed to enter the town.

On the morning of March 23 the advance was resumed. The column was met by the staff officers of Aguinaldo and a detachment of Aguinaldo's body guard, which was ordered to take charge of the Americans. While one of the ex-insurgent officers conversed with Aguinaldo's aide, another, a Spaniard, sent a courier to warn General Funston and the rest who, with eleven Macabebes were about an hour behind. Having received this warning, General Funston avoided Aguinaldo's detachment and joined the column, avoiding observation. The Tagalos went ahead to greet Aguinaldo and the column slowly followed, finally arriving at Palanan.

Aguinaldo's household troops, 50 men in neat uniforms of blue and white and wearing straw hats, lined up to receive the new-comers. General Funston's men crossed the river in small boats, formed on the bank and marched to the right and then in front of the insurgent grenadiers. The Tagalogs entered the house where Aguinaldo was.

Suddenly the Spanish officer, noticing that Aguinaldo's aide was watching the Americans suspiciously, exclaimed: "Now Macabebes, go for them." They opened fire but their aim was rather ineffective and three insurgents were killed. The rebels returned the fire. On hearing the firing, Aguinaldo, who evidently thought his men were merely celebrating the arrival of re-inforcement, ran to the window and shouted: "Stop that foolishness, quit wasting ammunition."

Hilario Placido, one of the Tagalog offcers and a former insurgent major, who was wounded in the lung by the battle of Coolocan, began to surround Aguinaldo exclaiming"you are a prisoner of the Americans."

Colonel Simeon William, Aguinaldo's chief of staff, Major Alambra, and others, attacked the men who were holding Aguinaldo. Placido shot Villia in the shoulder, Albra jumped out the window and attempted to cross the river. It is supposed that he was drowned. Five other insurgent officers fought for a few minutes and then fled, making their escape. When the firing began, General Funston assumed command and directed the attack on the house, personnally assisting in the capture of Aguinaldo. The insurgent body guard fled, leaving twenty rifles. Santiago Barcelona, the insurgent treasurer, surrendered without resistance.

When captured, Aguinaldo was tremendously excited, but he calmed down under General Funston's assurance that he would be well treated. General Funston secured all of Aguinaldo's correspondence, showing that he had kept in close touch with the sub-chiefs of the insurrection in all parts of the archipelago. It was also discovered that Aguinaldo, January 28, had proclaimed himself dictator. He had been living at

LOOK OUT.

A Citizen Suggests That Greensboro Had Better Keep Her Eyes Open.

"Greensboro," said a citizen this morning, "needs to keep her eyes open. There is real danger of her losing the Federal court. Winston is to have a court which will take a partof the territory contributory to the court here. The government has just ordered an agent to Winston to inspect their county court house with the intention of buying it instead of building.Greensboro people don't seem to be alive to the fact that the court is worth thousands of dollars annually to this town. The county has now begun to charge for the use of the court house, $50 per term, for the court. Winston is glad to give her'sfree. "Suppose a suitable building is secured there, and results. as the different courses of the two places might, in moving the entire court from here. Whose fault will it be? One merchant during a recent session of a court said he took in $1,-400 from people connected with the court, not a cent of which he would have received had the court not met."

A Delightful Occasion.

Last night at Mrs. Winsted's was one of the most delightful occasions recently given for the benefit of the Methodist church in their endeavor to raise the church debt. That Mrs. Winsted was to give this entertainment was a guarantee of its success. At 8:30 her residence on West Market street was thrown open to the invited guests who very son filled the spacious parlors.

The program as rendered was:

Piano Solo—Miss Blalock, (G. F. C.) Mid Summer Nights Dream, By Smith.

Vocal Solo—Mrs. D. Banner, Sing On.

Recitation—Miss Merrimon, The Heart of Old Hickory.

Piano Solo—Miss Blalock, Lost Hope.

Vocal Solo—Mrs. Banner. Leave me Not.

Recitation—Miss Merrimon, A Kentucky Cinderilla.

At 10:30 cream and cake and other refreshment were served.

The entire program was splendidly rendered. Miss Merrimon is truly a talented elocutionist, and deserves the praise so bountifully given her. Mrs. Winsted was assisted in receiving by Mrs. Trogdon, her daughter, and Miss Bessie Merrimon, her granddaughter. As hosts they are unexcelled.

The piano was of the Malcom-Love make, and was furnished for the occasion by Mr. W. H. Eller.

Appointed General Agents.

Messrs. Murry Bros. of this city have been appointed general agents of central Carolina for the Prudential of America, one of the big, well known life insurance companies. These gentlemen are first class insurance men, and will push the interest of The Prudential in this section of the State. They have gotten a good company and will certainly do large business for it.

The Moyorality Race.

As the time for the spring election draws near the friends of the aspirants begin to manifest their preference. Two requests have come in today, one from a "Southsider," who thinks that Mr. John L. King is the proper man, while "Fourth Ward" sees in Mr. C. G. Wright material for a good mayor.

REBUILT HIS HOUSE.

The Way Oak Ridgers Do Things in Extending Worthy Help.

Correspondence of The Telegram.

Oak Ridge, March 28.—On Monday afternoon the old framed house near Oak Ridge known as the Jason Thompson house now owned and occupied by Oliver Nugent, was blown down and wholly wrecked, his family escaping almost by miracle, for his wife and children were in it at the time. On Tuesday several of his neighbors met and decided to help him rebuild it and some forty of them began to tear the old building to pieces and lay out the timbers, to clean the brick off the cver thrown chimney and otherwise clear up the wreckage. By noon something like $100 was raised, by Mr. W. E. Benbow who acted as a leader, for the purpose of getting shingle nails, additional siding, ceiling, etc. By Wednesday night the 50 or 60 workmen had a neat three room cottage up, weather-boarded and ready for shingles. Today dozens of hammers are nailing shingles and chimneys are going up and it is confidently expected that Mr. Nugent will spend Sunday under his own vine and fig-tree. The storm which to him at first, no doubt, seemed a calamity, has brought him a blessing. He has found out that he has plenty of friends and they are amply repaid and realize the truth "it is more blessed to give than to receive."

Will Soon Be Ready.

Work preparatory to puttingin the new switch board on the Greensboro Telephone Exchange, is being carried change are being repainted and every change are beig repainted and every thing put in first class condition. When the new board is up the cables will enter from Davie street and not Market as at present. So great is the work necessary to be done before the board can be put in that several months will elapse, but when it is complete Greensboro will have one of the best telephone systems in the State.

Brings His Commission With Him.

Marshal J. M. Millikan returned this morning form Washington, where he went several days ago to receive his reappointment as marshal. He brought back with him his commission which makes him marshal of the Western District of North Carolina for a period of four years beginning March 31, 1901. The commission was signed by President McKinley in person, and had the usual allowance of red tape about it.

Senator Wood Here.

Senator Wood, of Randolph, spent the afternoon here with his daughter, who is a student at the Normal. He left Raleigh this morning, and says everything down there has reached normal since the vote on the impeachment trial was taken. He says that though it has been known for some days that the judges would be acquitted, no one expetced so large a vote. He thinks everybody is disposed to be satisfied now that it is all over.

WILL HE TAKE IT?

General Opinion is that Aguinaldo Would be Paroled if He Would Take the Oath.

By Wire to The Telegram.

Washington, March 29.—In official circles the opinion is unanimous that if Aguinaldo should address the insurgents, urging them to lay down their arms and accept the American supremacy, he would be paroled, provided he himself takes the oath of allegiance to the United States.

A Manila dispatch says that Aguinaldo this morning conferred with Filipino leaders and was urged to use his influence to bring about general peace.

HITS OFF THE CASE EXACTLY

Charity & Children.

We have seen no criticism of the Legislature that hits off the case half so well as the editorial in the Greensboro Telegram of Wednesday, the 20th instant. A comparison is made between the two last Legislatures, in which it is shown that that of 1899 was altogether the superior body, and the reasons given therefor are convincing. The members of the Legislature of 1899, the Telegram says, "operated on a high plane, they were impressed with the solemnity of the situation, and sobered by the responsibility that rested upon them. They closed the doors of their hearing to the special pleaders, and acted as men commissioned to do an important work for the whole State; and not to be side-tracked on small things. . . . The Legislature of 1901 came in under different circumstances. There was no overshadowing object to be atttained. The members went to Raleigh without a special mission. . . . The cohesive force of no single object bound them together. So the members themselves who had no axe to grind fell easy prey to those who had. There was time to give ear to the special pleaders, . . .and the men who had scores to clear and plans to lay for future use, got in their work." The Telegram adds that in 1898 the people picked their representatives. The office sought the man rather than the man the office, but in 1900 the work was done, and the people were more careless as to the character of the men they elected. This is eminently true. The Telegram describes the two bodies in a pungent sentence: "Speaking broadly, we should say that the difference between the Legislature of 1899 and the one just closed is the difference between statesmanship and politices." The admirable penpicture concludes as follows: "As with men so with the Legislatures; the one with a purpose and not to be turned aside from it, the other rudderless and therefore a prey of the winds." If anybody can draw a better photographs of the two last legislatures let him come on.

CHINA AND CHICAGO.

The Chinese minister has been lecturing he Chicago University students. From all reports he is as inquisitive as Li Hung Chang. The Times-Herald gives an interesting list of his questions, which were on this line:

"How often have you been married, and how often divorced?"

"Were you ever arrested for horse stealing, and if not, why?"

"Do you live with your mother-in-law, and if so, is she capable of managing your affairs?"

The minister incidentally informed the University men that if they continued in the straight and narrow way they would eventually reach that high state of civilization which the Chinese nation has enjoyed for forty centuries.

AN ANCIENT BELIEF

The ancients believed that rheumatism was the work of a demon within a man. Any one who has had an attack of siatic or inflammatory rheumatism will agree that the affliction is demoniac enough to warrant the belief. It has never been claimed that Chamberlain's Pain Balm would cast out demons, but it will cure rheumatism, and hundreds bear testimony to the truth of this statement. One application relieves the pain, and this quick relief which it affords is alone worth many times its cost. For sale by C. E. Holton, Druggist.

A NIGHT OF TERROR.

"Awful anxiety was felt for the widow of the brave General Burnham of Machias, Me., when the doctors said she could not live till morning" writes Mrs. S. H. After three doses she slept easlly all night, and its further use completely cured her." This marvelous medicine is guaranteed to cure all throat, chest and lung diseases. Only 50c. and $1.00. FRIDAY, MARCH 29.

STAND BY THE RESULT.

On some of the articles of impeachment yesterday as many as fourteen true Democrats voted for acquittal, while as many as twelve voted for acquittal on all the charges. These gentlemen voted, not as partisans but as sworn jurors according to their idea of the law and testimony. Those who voted for condemnation we accord the same conscientious motives. We should regret to think that either side voted except for correct motives.

So let there be no accusations. Let us accept a fair and honorable construction of the motives of the jurors. There has already been begun, we believe, an effort to villify the motives and blacken the names of the Democrats who voted for acquittal. The populistic organ of clap trap now being operated at Raleigh to the great hurt of the Democratic party, posing as the friends of the people, but really the exponent of humbug and rant, has already set up its howl for the purpose of injuring the men who voted, as they accorded their colleagues the right to vote, upon their oaths, according to their ideas of the law and the evidence.

The trial was a fair one and the gentlemen voted as their sense of justice impelled them. I will be a bad day when the Democratic party allows their integrity to be impeached by rabid denunciation. Let the Democratic party say that "we have given a fair trial, duty demanded no more, we could do no less, we accept the result."

Speaking of the Democratic sentiment against the impeachment and also the judges being found guilty, the Wilmington Messenger said that it would not be suprising that if the Senate sent the judges out "as stainless with the indorsement of a Democratic jury that they are indeed good, great and faithful servants, wise pure and fleckless." The Messenger goes rather far we think, and a mere refusal to say that the men were guilty of high crimes and misdemeanors, certainly does not make the assertion that they contain the qualification of perfection mentioned by our able and esteemed contemporary.

Mark Hanna, Marion Butler and surdry other people have abominable politics, but the Journal may discuss them for the next twelve months and Winston-Salem not be profited one cent.—Winston Journal.

And it may sing the political praises of many other persons whom it esteems to be all that it esteems these not to be, and still be unprofited. Looking after the welfare af the country at large is a great accupation for a newspaper, but, as the Journal suggests, looking after home is the best for all.

The large vote by which the accused judges were acquitted yesterday was a surprise . There was little doubt of their acquital for some days prior to he conclusion of the trial, but we do not think that the most sanguine expected so large a negative vote. On Wednesday night in merry conversation Governor Jarvis said that the defense would not be satisfied with less than 26 votes, which would be one majority of the Senators. Yet we have no idea that he expected near so much.

It appears that Professor Aguinaldo has flown his last flew.

Edits a Hill Sheet in Jail.

Laporte, Ind., Dispatch.

George M. Ray, editor and publisher of the Shelbyville Democrat, convicted of fraud and sentenced from two to four years at hard labor in the Michigan city prison, makes the announcement that he will edit that paper while he wears the stripes. He will work on contracts during the day and at night, until the lights are put out, will grind out copy for his paper in the solitude of his cell. The Shelbyville Democrat is the original Hill paper of Indiana, and editorially it now expounds the candidacy of the New York State man for the Presidency in 1904.

Ray was convicted of defrauding Shelby county in printing contracts. He attributes his conviction political persecution.

[illegible] HEROINES GROW.

Story of the Rescue of Five Unfortunate Hunters by a Poor Burmese Woman.

She is only a Burmese woman, and even her name is not known in this country. But whatever her name may be, it may be here be translated Grace Darling. For she is a saver of life extraordinary, a heroine of large proportions, and a credit to her brown skinned race, says the New York Herald.

From the accounts which have penetrated from the land of secrecy and a few exterior confidences, it appears that she is a simple, unpretentious resident of the countryside near Rangoon. In front of her home flows a stream of considerable proportions, and this proximity has bred in her a love of the water, a familiarity with its caprices and treacheries, and a skill in the handling of all manner of craft fashioned to conquer the waves.

On a recent Sunday six clerks from Rangoon, intent upon the enjoyment of their holiday, set out from the city, guns in hand, with the idea of bringing back a load of game which should furnish food for boasting for many a weary work day. When near the suburb of Insein the hunters came to the conclusion that their chances might be bettered from the vantage point of the opposite shore.

But they had no boat—and the woman had a boat, and it would accommodate the entire party. An arrangement was made for her to ferry the sportsmen across. Midway of the stream a sudden squall sprung up, and, despite the efforts of the party, the sail was carried away and the skiff was swamped.

Not a man could swim. The woman, however, was thoroughly at home in the water, and, directing the capsized hunters to hold to the overturned boat, swam ashore, first with one and then with another. In this manner five were saved. The remaining man lost his head and consequently his life, having released his hold on the skiff and attempted to negotiate the current.

But this did not end the woman's heroism. Exhausted as she was with her labors, she yet swam back to her own side of the shore and secured another boat, in which she sailed to the opposite bank and carried back the dripping survivors.

FOUND AT CLUB PARTIES.

Card Sharps Who Make a Living by Winning Prizes and Pawning Them.

Public progressive euchre parties for rather costly prizes have lately developed a new sort of professional gambler, says the New York Evening Post. There are in the city several small bands of five or six each, mostly women, who go about to public euchre parties and almost always win prizes. The method of procedure adopted by these euchre "sharps" is simple. They watch closely the club and "society" notes in the newspapers, prepare a schedule of dates each week, pay the subscription fee required and enter the games as guests. Their playing is so expert that they have little difficulty in carrying off the prizes. By these means these people make a comfortable living pawning their winnings, and so often turning between $20 and $25 a week.

The professionals, however, are becoming known in some parts of town. At a progressive euchre party held at one of the armories of the city last week it became known before the play began that there were several of the "sharps" in the room, and by a strategy they were excluded, although they had paid the subscription. The six—two men and four women—were arranged so that they were placed in pairs at three tables in different parts of the room and then told that, the sets not being complete, they would have to wait. On leaving the room the six "sharps" met each other and, comparing notes, saw what had been done. They reentered the room, but found that play had already begun. This time they were informed that the game could not be stopped.

Live on Installment Plan.

"One of the curious business customs here," says a correspondent in the City of Mexico, "is that of paying for things on the 'abono' or installment plan. The great shops carry tens of thousands of accounts, which are always being added to by fresh charges, and continually being decreased by the payment of the monthly 'abonos.' From your cradle to your coffin you can, if you have any sort of credit, go through life on the installment plan. This is a city full of government employes, like Washington, and they live, move and have their being on the installment principle."

Corner in Polar Dogs.

According to Sir Clements Markham, president of the Royal Geographical society, Americans are responsible for forming such a successful corner in polar dogs that the pending British and other arctic expeditions are confronted with a difficulty nearly as great as the ice fields. It appears that E. B. Baldwin, the American explorer, has bought up such a large supply of dogs that their price has risen from $18 to $30 and they are hard to secure even at that price.

The Cocoon's Thread.

The thread of the cocoon of the silk worm is not wound around and around, as might be supposed, but irregularly here and there, as the worm moves his head to and fro within his self-made house. Many yards of thread may sometimes be unwound from the cocoon without turning it over at all.

Needs Attention.

Residenters of the Southside are complaining about the condition of South Elm street on the hill near the water tower. So irregular is the street here that when it rains water stands in the street to the depth of several inches.

Is This True?

Graham Tribune.

The Democratic county officers of Guilford county demanded of the Federal authorities for the use of the county court house either $50 rental or that they use a Democratic negro they have in charge as custodian of the Federal court next week, and pay him one dollar per day for his services. BRONCHITIS may mean a mere cold or a chronic incurable inflammation of wind-pipes.

The quickest relief, for a cold, is also the most effectual balm for the worst condition of wind-pipes and lungs.

It takes the edge off a cold in a night, and relieves it progressively—one forgets it after a little.

An old bronchitis, however, is obstinate. Nothing restores the tissues, when once destroyed; and an old bronchitis has gradually impared and partly destroyed the lining of those small pipes between throat and lungs.

Scott's emulsion of cod-liver oil is the balm; it sooths if it cannot restore.

ECZEMA'S
ITCH IS TORTURE.

Eczema is caused by an acid humor in the blood coming in contact with the skin and producing great redness and inflammation; little pustular eruptions form and discharge a thin, sticky fluid, which dries and scales off; sometimes the skin is hard, dry and fissured. Eczema in any form is a tormenting, stubborn disease, and the itching and burning at times are almost unbearable; the acid burning humor seems to ooze out and set the skin on fire. Salves, washes nor other external applications do any real good, for as long as the poison remains in the blood it will keep the skin irritated.

BAD FORM OF TETTER.

"For three years I had Tetter on my hands, which caused them to swell to twice their natural size. Part of the time the disease was in the form of running sores, very painful, and causing me much discomfort. Four doctors said the Tetter had progressed too far to be cured, and they could do nothing for me. I took only three bottles of S. S. S. and was completely cured. This was fifteen years ago, and I have never since seen any sign of my old trouble."—MRS. L. B. JACKSON, 1414 McGee St., Kansas City, Mo.

S. S. S. neutralizes this acid poison, cools the blood and restores it to a healthy, natural state, and the rough, unhealthy skin becomes soft, smooth and clear.

SSS cures Tetter, Erysipelas, Psoriasis, Salt Rheum and all skin diseases due to a poisoned condition of the blood. Send for our book and write us about your case. Our physicians have made these diseases a life study, and can help you by their advice; we make no charge for this service. All correspondence is conducted in strictest confidence.

REMARKABLE CURES OF RHEUMATISM.

Vindicator, Rutherfordton, N. C.

The editor of the Vindicator has had occasion to test the efficacy of Chamberlain's Pain Balm twice with the most remarkable results in each case. First, with rheumatism in the shoulder from which he suffered excruciating pain for ten days, which was relieved with two applications of Pain Balm, rubbing the parts afflicted and realizing instnat benefit and entire relief in a very short time. Second, in rheumatismin thigh joint, almost prostrating him with severe pain, which was relieved by two applications, rubbing with the liniment on retiring at night, and geting up free from pain. For sale by A. E. Holton's drug store.

The stomach controls the situation. Those who are hearty and strong are those who can eat and digest plenty of food. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure digests what you eat and allows you to eat all the good food you want. If you suffer from indigestion, heartburn, belching or any other stomach trouble, this preparation can't help but do you good. The most sensitive stomachs can take it. Howard Gardner.

WORKING NIGHT AND DAY.

The busiest and mightiest little thing that ever was made is Dr. King's New Life Pills. Every pill is a sugar-coated globule of health, that changed weakness into strength, listlessness into energy, brain-fag into mental power. They're wonderful in building up the health. Only 25 cents per box. Sold by C. E. Holton.

CHANGE THEIR OLD NAMES.

Many Foreigners Begin Life in This Country Under New Aliases.

The clerk of the city court, says the New York Evening Post, lately made public the names of 70 persons who changed their names in legal form in the year 1900. Most of the original names are of palpably foreign extraction. As a rule all reasonable requests for change of name are granted. They are then filed away, the petition giving the avowed reasons for change and the judgment passed upon it by the court. A glance at the records and the various name changes gives rise to considerable speculation as to the real cause of dissatisfaction. Why, one wonders, should a name of such aristocratic twang as Waldemar Ruthyar be cast aside in preference to the hackneyed title of Henry Smith? On the next page of the records is the reverse of the question of high-sounding names, where one finds the somewhat plebeian cognomen of Gumbinsky changed to Von Tilzer. What evidence of nationality remains in the name of Jay, unless it is discovered to be a corruption of Jacobowsky? There scarcely could be any greater effacement of a family name than to substitute the noncommittal Blank for Polanger.

Sebastian Bibo is lost entirely in Frank Walter and Ruzicka becomes the Americanized Rose. Many changes result from family quarrels, when another family name is taken in place of the legitimate one. Often the wills of eccentric relatives demand a change in the name of the beneficiary, without which no legacy can be obtained. Occasionally debt or imprisonment has brought the name of some person into such disrepute that a new name is sought for which a new reputation may be built.

In the case of foreigners who have become American citizens the stiff consonants of Russia, Bohemia or Poland prove too much for our Anglicized tongues and a change is really necessary. Under this reason come such changes, no doubt, as Chmelicek to Luhan, Neugroschel to Rochelle, Yuzukjian to Yuzuk, and Rochmovitz to Rockmore. By far the larger part of the list of changed names belongs to those ending in ski or sky. The terminal here is generally dropped, leaving the parent stem. The dropping of this ending results often in names that bear not the slightest trace of the nationality of the changers. Kempinski becomes plain Kempin; Jampolsky is reduced to the Dickenslike name of Jampole.

New Member's Blunder.

A brigadier general or major general is entitled to the keep of three horses at Uncle Sam's expense; a colonel, lieutenant colonel, major or captain to two only. The forage allowance is often commuted by turning over the same to the quartermaster, and this practice once betrayed a suspicious new member of the house into a curious blunder. He announced that he had discovered that "officers of the army are selling the forage allowed to them, and one such case I am prepared to cite from the records of the war department—a case in which the oats and hay were transferred, doubtless for a consideration, to a person named Q. M. Corral." There was an exchange of looks and winks among his astonished hearers, and then an old member kindly rose and said: "I presume, Mr. Speaker, that the memorandum referred to by my distinguished friend refers to a transfer of forage, in the ordinary course of business, to the quartermaster's corral."—Troy Times.

A GOOD COUGH MEDICINE FOR CHILDREN.

"I have no hesitancy in recommending Chamberlain's Cough Remedy," says F. P. Moran, a well known and popular baker, of Petersburg, Va. "We have given it to our children when troubled with bad coughs, also whooping cough, and it has always given perfect satisfaction. It was recommended to me by a druggist as the best cough medicine for children as it contained no opium or other harmful drug." Sold by C. E. Holton.

RED HOT FROM THE GUN

Was the ball that hit G. B. Steadman, of Newark, Mich., in the Civil War. It caused horrible ulcers that no treatment helped for twenty years. Then Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured him. Cures cuts, bruises, burns, boils, felons, corns, skin eruptions. Best pile cure on earth. 25 cents a box. Cure guaranteed. Sold by C. E. Holton, druggist.

MILLIONS GIVEN AWAY.

It is certainly gratifying t the public to know of one concern in the land who are not afraid to be generous to the needy and suffering. The proprietors of Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds, have given away over ten million trial bottles of this great medicine, and have the satisfaction of knowing it has absolutely cured thousands of hopeless cases. Asthma, Bronchitis, Hoarseness and all diseases of the throat, chest and lungs are surely cured by it. Call on C. E. Holton, druggist, and get a trial bottle free, Regular size 50c and $1. Every bottle guaranteed, or prize returned.

Headache often results from a disordered condition of the stomach and constipation of the bowels. A dose or two of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets will correct these disorders and cure the headache. Sold by C. E. Holton.

For the weakness and prostration following grippe there is nothing so prompt and effective as One Minute Cough Cure. This preparation is highly endorsed as an unfailing remedy for all throat and lung troubles and its early use prevents consumption. It was made to cure quickly.

STORY OF AGUINALDO'S UNDOING

Palanan for seven months undisturbed except when a detachment of the Sixteenth Infantry visited the town. On that occasion the entire population took to the mountains and remained there until the troops retired.

Aguinaldo admitted that he had never been wounded, adding: "I should never have been taken except by a stratagem. I was completely deceived by Lacuna's forged signature."

He feared he might be sent to Guam and he was quite glad to come to Manila. Palanan was guarded by numerous outposts. During the fight none of the Macabebes were wounded. The expedition rested March 24 and then marched 76 miles the following day to Palanan bay, where General Funston found the Vicksburg which brought him to Manila. Commander Barry, of the Vicksburg, rendered General Funston splendid assistance.

Aguinaldo, who talked freely of past events, said he supposed General Trias would proclaim himself dictaton, even not knowing that Trias had surrendered. He behaved courteously and gave no trouble. General Funston says Aguinaldo is above the average in intelligence and has prepossessing manners.
